

Name: Ankit Mishra

Registration No.: 25BCY10177

Branch: CSE (Cyber Security and Digital Forensics)

Year: 2025–2029

Course Code: CSE0001

Date: 27 March 2026

Task 1: Digital Literacy Awareness Infographic

Project Overview

For Task 1, I created a one-page digital literacy awareness infographic using the Canva tool. The primary goal was to design a visually engaging resource that helps anyone understand the core concepts of digital literacy. The infographic is structured into three distinct sections, each covering a key topic from the Digital Literacy course.

Infographic Structure

1. What is Digital Literacy?

This section explains the foundational components of the subject, including:

- Finding and accessing information efficiently.
- Understanding and utilizing various digital tools.
- Content creation and critical evaluation of digital sources.
- Communicating safely and effectively in online environments.

2. Safe Internet Practices (Cybersecurity)

Given my branch of study, this section was particularly important. It highlights critical security measures such as:

- The importance of strong, unique passwords and enabling Two-Factor Authentication (2FA).
- Awareness of phishing attacks and the risks of unsafe Wi-Fi networks.

- Maintaining system integrity through regular software updates and privacy management.

3. Effective Email Etiquette

The final section focuses on professional communication standards, covering:

- Writing clear subject lines and using professional greetings.
- Keeping messages concise, polished, and thoroughly proofread.
- The proper use of "Reply All" and ending with a professional closing.

Reflection

One thing I found particularly interesting while working on this task was how much information can be communicated through a well-structured visual layout. Arranging three complex topics into a single, clean infographic required careful thought about which points were most essential.

The process helped me realize that digital literacy is not just about a single skill, but a collection of competencies that allow us to navigate the modern world safely and professionally. It was a rewarding experience that helped me blend my technical knowledge with creative design.

